Do not be deceived by scammers using an AI generated voice

Hello, who is calling please?

(AI generated daughter's voice)
Mom, it's me. I've been kidnapped.
If you don't pay a ransom they won't release me. Save me. 🙏

What? Where are you?

If you don't send the money now, you will never see me again.

Do not be duped, this is an AI generated voice used by a scam gang that mimics the voice of your daughter to deceive you into paying a ransom. In order to avoid being deceived in this way follow three steps:

1 Filter calls and reject those from unknown numbers

Be vigilant about accepting calls from unknown numbers. If the caller pretends to know you be especially careful.

2 Don't talk or say as little as possible to prevent your voice being recorded and imitated

When talking to a stranger do not reveal too much information about yourself to prevent your voice being recorded and imitated.

3 Pause the call and verify whether it is real

If you receive a suspicious phone call, immediately pause the call and try to contact the person allegedly calling you to determine whether you are being scammed.
